"HUMAN FLY" THIEF CAUGHT IN WOMAN'S ROOM AT WALDORF

ANALYSIS OF VOTES BY STATES SHOWS SOME QUEER TURNS

Same Issues in Different Cases Worked in Opposite Ways.

UNREST EVERYWHERE.

Farmers, Wets, Labor, Tariff and Purely Local Affairs Swayed Voters.

By David Lawrence.

(Special Correspondence of The World.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (Copyright)—Although there may be a difference of opinion as to what party strength is implied, from a National viewpoint, in the results of Tuesday's election, returns would seem to indicate that east and west of the Mississippi party lines didn't mean the same thing and that both Republicans and Democrats frequently profited by the same issue, as, for instance, the reaction of farm communities to low farm prices and the protest of workmen against the Daugherty injunction and deflated wages.

Examining the results in each State will not, of course, lead to positive conclusions, as there is no way of telling just what the decisive factor was in each case, but nearly every situation had its peculiar characteristics.

Starting with the State of Washington, where Senator Miles Foxworth was defeated for re-election, one finds a C. F. Hill, Democrat, who voted against American entry into the war when he was a member of the House of Representatives, made a strong campaign attacking his colleague as a "reactionary."

He appealed to the farmers and laboring men and, although a third candidate was in the field in the interests of labor, Mr. Hill won the support of the Radical elements as well as enough disinterested farmers to achieve victory. Mr. Hill made much of Senator Foxworth's vote for New Jersey.

OREGON—The election of a Democratic Governor was largely due to the support of the Ku Klux Klan, which had failed by 500 votes to beat the Republican Governor for re-election in the primaries. Oregon rarely elects a Democratic Governor and the defection of thousands of Republicans, who were inclined toward Ku Klux Klan doctrines, helped to swing the State.

MONTANA—The election of Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, to the United States Senate, is a victory for liberal Conservatives as against extreme radicals. Mr. Wheeler, two years ago, lost the Governorship because he was considered too friendly to the non-partisan League, but he has more or less tempered his views since then and agreed to the platform written by the regular Democratic organization. Unquestionably conservative Republican votes helped him win. The result is quite the opposite from that in other Northwestern States, where candidates on the Democratic ticket won by seeking radical votes.

Dellora Angell, $38,000,000 Heiress, to Wed Poor Artist, Sweetheart of Schooldays

Neice of Famous "Bet-a-Million" Gates Determines on Husband at Last.

SPURNED ROYALTY.

"I'll Drive My Own Car—Don't Even Want a Chauffeur," Says Bride-to-Be.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—At last Dellora Angell, twenty, with the prospective control of some $38,000,000, is engaged. She made the announcement herself last night, naming Lester Norris, her schooldays' beau and now a poor artist, as her intended husband.

Norris is a cartoonist for the Hamiltonian, published by the Hamilton Club of Chicago. He is a graduate of the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

"There's nothing strange about it," Miss Angell said today. "We love each other. The romance started years ago when Lester was in the sixth grade and I was in the fourth grade."

Miss Angell recently returned from Europe, where it was reported she received scores of proposals of marriage from royalty. The wealthy American girl, however, has simple tastes.

"I don't want a fancy wedding," she said. "Lester and I will just slip off and get married, with the members of my family and his and a few of our best friends present. Wilda Blomfield will play the wedding march. She is my best friend. No church wedding for me."

"After we are married we will live at our place on the St. Charles River until we can build a bungalow."

"I don't want any corps of staff servants around to boss me either."

"I can go into the kitchen, cook a dinner, serve it and wash the dishes just as well as any other housewife."

"I'll take 'Old Chester'—she's been with the family for years, and I couldn't do without her. But she's the only servant I want. Even a chauffeur will be barred because I want to drive my own car."

"It may be we will have to have a man to tend the furnace and mind the garden. Les isn't keen about those things and besides he will be busy driving."

"I know we will be happy. He's so clever. Why, I've got a room full of letters from him. They are all illustrated. He always loved to draw."

Norris is quiet and says he professes "to let Dellora do the talking." The engagement ring belonged to his grandmother. It is modest.

"I had it reset just before Dellora left for Europe. One night I took it down and slipped it on her finger. She wore it all the time while she was abroad."

Miss Angell, with her parents, will leave for Pasadena, Cal., in a few days to spend a winter.

Miss Angell has been reported engaged many times, but always her father entered a denial. Young Nor-

G. O. P. LOST AT POLLS FROM SPIRITUAL LACK

McAdoo Says They Failed to Interpret Opinion of Nation.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 10.—Democratic success at the polls last Tuesday was inevitable because Republican leaders have failed to interpret the sentiment and opinion of the country, William G. McAdoo, Democratic Presidential candidate, declared in a statement issued here today.

"The Administration has been reactionary, narrow, provincial and unsympathetic from the outset," he declared. "It has made no appeal to the great moral and spiritual forces, without which no nation can endure."

"It has given us a wholly materialistic and soulless America. It has been devoid of political morality, as evidenced by its wholesale support of the seating of Newberry. It has made no appeal to the conscience and spiritual forces of the Nation."

"This is serious enough, but its economic policies have been equally mistaken."

ERSKINE CHILDERS, DE VALERA CHIEF, TAKEN AT WICKLOW

Another Prominent Republican Captured—Leader Escapes Net Drawn for Him.

BELFAST, Nov. 10 (Associated Press).—Erskine Childers, one of the chief lieutenants of Eamon De Valera in the Republican movement, was captured by the Free State forces at Wicklow early today, it is officially announced.

A brother of Seamus Robinson, prominent Tipperary Republican, was captured with Childers. The prisoners were taken to the Portlough Barracks in Dublin.

It is reported Mr. De Valera also was in the house where the captures were effected, but evaded arrest.

The house where Childers and Robinson were taken was the residence of Robert Barton, Glendalough House, Dublin, a signatory of the Anglo-Irish treaty, later joined forces with De Valera.

The man was taken to the police station at Wicklow, and an effort is being made to establish a new record for the Air Mail Service between Cleveland and that city.

Second Machine Will Proceed With Cargo to Hartford.

A United States Air Mail Service airplane, piloted by E. E. Leachman, which left Cleveland, O., at 5 o'clock this morning with 100 pounds of mail, was expected to arrive at Curtiss Field here at noon today. Immediately upon arrival of this plane, another plane, piloted by Charles H. Ames, was to take off for Fort Hartford, Conn., with 400 pounds of mail.

The second annual aviation meet is being held at Hartford and an effort is being made to establish a new record for the Air Mail Service between Cleveland and that city.

WOMAN'S SCREAM IN WALDORF TRIPS "THE HUMAN FLY"

Mrs. Stetson, Wife of Hat Man, Awakes to Find Man in Room.

KEY GIVES HIM AWAY.

Once Left Hotel by Window and Escaped From Station, Police Say.

George McGrath, alleged to be the "Human Fly," whose methods of escape from hotel rooms police say have fooled them on former occasions, made another mysterious getaway at 4:45 o'clock this morning from the Waldorf-Astoria. It is charged, but was captured later by the quick thinking and prompt action of House Detective Joe Smith.

Mrs. George Henry Stetson, who, with her husband of the celebrated hat family, has an apartment in the hotel, was awakened by a noise in her room. Switching on the light she saw a man crouching within a few feet of her. She screamed and jumped from her bed. The man rushed from the room and Mrs. Stetson telephoned the office.

Up came Detective Smith and several maids and bell boys on the double quick. Mr. Stetson quickly told what had happened. In the drawing room of the suite was found an overcoat in which was a pint of liquor and a key marked "Hotel Regent, No. 41."

The suite and the entire hotel were searched. A half hour later Detective Smith looked out a window on the 33d Street side and saw a man without an overcoat walking leisurely along. The detective hurried to the street and caught up with the pedestrian.

"Where are you going?" the detective asked.

"To my hotel," the other answered with hauteur.

"And what hotel might that be?"

"The Hotel Regent."

"Fine!" said Detective Smith. "Come on over to my hotel, I've got something for you."

The man was taken to the Waldorf and there identified by Mrs. Stetson, after which he was sent to the West 30th Street Police Station and charged with unlawful entry.

Three months ago a man was discovered in a Herald Square Hotel room. When an entrance was forced he got into an adjoining room and, locking the door, escaped by sliding down a rope of bedclothes.

George McGrath was arrested at 5th Avenue and 34th Street as the man and taken to the Detective Bureau of the West 30th Street Station. He was left by himself and went out of the second story window, landed in the station yard, and walked through the station to freedom.

The man was taken to the police station at Philadelphia. He returned a month ago and registered at the Hotel Pennsylvania and then gave himself up.

"Lax Enforcement" Predicted By Volstead, Loser by 12,500

Father of "Dry" Measure Says "Wets" May Alter His Law but Prohibition Will Stick.

GRANITE FALLS, Minn., Nov. 10.—A period of lax enforcement may follow the wet wave that swept the country Tuesday, Andrew J. Volstead, "father" of the Dry Enforcement Act and defeated for Congress, admitted today.

"There may be a period of lax enforcement, but the Eighteenth Amendment will always remain in the Constitution of the United States," said Volstead.

"The wets may alter enforcement laws; they may be more successful in blocking enforcement than they have been—but they will never be able to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. We may find the people winking at enforcement against light wines and beers, but the people will never countenance the open return of strong drink."

Volstead was defeated by 12,500 votes.
